

PotoHEX

Privacy policy

The app runs entirely locally, on your iOS device. It does not need a network connection.

The app does not collect any data.

The user can access any file locally accessible on the system.

During the TestFlight phase, if the application crashes, a crash report can be sent to the developers. This crash report will contain information about what caused the crash (functions being called, values of variables).

The owner of the application, [Alexander Pototskiy] (<mailto:alex.a.potocki@gmail.com>), does not have any way to access the data viewed or created by the user.